

Recap

- We know that data on the blockchain is (practically) immutable.
- How do we add new information?
- How do we make sure the new information is legitimate?

First, we need a block