Replay Problem

- In order to prevent replay attacks, every transaction must have a "nonce", such that the account keeps track of the nonces used and only accepts a transaction if its nonce is 1 after the last nonce used.

- This means that even no-longer-used accounts can never be pruned from the account state.